SIMPLE PHOSPHORUS PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 5), containing 1-50th gr. Phosphorus.
Dr. KIRBY says: "Experience fully warrants the administration of Phosphorus in this dose" in severe attacks of Neuralgia and cases of extreme Nervous Exhaustion; it gives excellent results, taken with food three or four times a day.

PHOSPHORUS AND QUININE PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 3), containing 1-50th gr. Phosphorus.
This is a valuable combination of two powerful restoratives. As a nutrient tonic it gives power to the brain and spinal cord, imparts tone to the digestive organs, increases functional activity and improves the condition of the whole system. It is largely employed in India during convalescent stages of intermittent and remittent fevers. It is an excellent remedy for Malaise induced by the climate, and is a good prophylactic against Malaria.

PHOSPHORUS AND IRON PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 7), containing 1-50th gr. Phosphorus.
This is given with great advantage in Anæmia, Sciatica, and other Neuralgic affections, also in the treatment of convalescence from fever and other debilitating diseases. It is an excellent chemical food for anæmic children, and a good adjuvant to a course of cod liver oil.

PHOSPHORUS AND NUX VOMICA PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula No. 6), containing 1-33rd gr. Phosphorus.
This combination is useful in all the cases named above, but especially in cases of feeble digestion and loss of power, following excesses. Taken regularly with food for a few weeks it has a powerfully renovating effect on broken-down constitutions.

PHOSPHORUS, QUININE AND NUX VOMICA PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 4), containing 1-50th gr. Phosphorus.
The use of this combination will be gathered from what has been said of the previous Formulæ, Nos. 3 and 6.
For a similar combination with Iron, see No. 9.

COMPOUND PHOSPHORUS PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 9), containing 1-50th gr. Phosphorus, with Iron, Quinine and Strychnia.
This combination of nerve tonics has a very large application It is efficacious in all disorders which are characterised by impoverished blood and diminished nerve power, especially in that low condition of the general health which is induced by overwork, dissipation, and excesses of various kinds. In this state Iron and phosphorus is strongly indicated. In Constitutional Syphilis it has a high remedial power, by improving the condition of the blood and by stimulating its regenerative power. It is exceedingly reassuring and strength-giving. As a tonic for convalescents recovering from fever and other exhausting diseases it is unequalled.

STRONG PHOSPHORUS, IRON, QUININE AND NUX VOMICA PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 17), containing 1-25th gr. Phosphorus.
This is double the strength of No. 9 as regards Phosphorus and Quinine, and therefore should be prescribed only in cases where the larger dose of Phosphorus is needed.

PHOSPHORUS, CANTHARIDES & NUX VOMICA PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 20), containing 1-33rd gr. Phosphorus.
This pill produces no irritation of the gastro-intestinal mucous membrane, but operates as a gentle stimulant to the genito-urinary organs. It is especially useful in premature failure of power, induced by passive discharges due to debility. It is useful also as a stimulating emmenagogue in obstinate cases of Amenorrhœa, Leucorrhœa, and Atony of the Uterus.
Formula No. 30 contains Iron, and as a tonic is most suitable for feeble, anæmic females.

PHOSPHORUS AND DAMIANA PILLS.
(Dr. KIRBY'S Formula, No. 34), containing 1-33rd gr Phosphorus.
The Extract in this pill is made from the True Damiana Plant (" Turnera Aphrodisiaca"), and is a valuable aid to Phosphorus when required as a remedy for impotence.

The above may be obtained from our appointed Agents, in Bottles, 3/-, 5/- and 10/- each (Englishmoney), the 10/- Bottle containing sufficient for a course of four weeks. Two 10/- Bottles may be obtained direct from our laboratory, carriage paid to any post town in India or Australia, by remitting us a Post Office order for 21/

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE,

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of your body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 3 Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. "Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evan escent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years in Cholera, in Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is A DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, Chemists to the Viceroy's Chemists."

CAUTION.—Vice Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodyne ; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—The Times, July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d. and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne," on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION :—Beware of Piracy and Imitation. Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, Russell's Street, Bloomsbury, London.

FALL FROM A WINDOW.—Magdalene D'Cunha, a girl of seven years, fell from the upper window of a two-storied house, at Bandora, on Tuesday evening. She had lost her balance and was precipitated to the ground, from a height of about twenty-two feet, sustaining serious injuries to her head in the fall that rendered her unconscious. The unfortunate child, who is the daughter of Mr. Vincent D'Cunha, head clerk in the Bombay Bank, is still not out of danger.

GOA NEWS.—Mr. Diogo Do Menezes has been appointed Advocate-General at Goa. Mr. Motta Veiga, the delegate at Salsette, has been transferred to a similar post in Africa.—A rumour is prevalent that the working of the West of India Portuguese Railway Company is to be made over to the Southern Mahratta Railway Company.—Senhor Ochoa, the Acting Chief Justice, is reported to be sick, and his medical advisers have recommended him to quit India as early as possible.

A BREACH OF THE ABKARI ACT.—At the Girgaum Police Court, yesterday, Ambalal Nageshar, was charged by Mr. Rustom Pestonjee, an Abkari Inspector, with importing 150 tolas of ganja without a license from the Collector of Customs. The accused was arrested on Wednesday morning, at the Grant Road Railway station, with the ganja in his possession. His defence was that he had brought the ganja from his native country, Petlad, for his own consumption, and therefore, he did not think that a license was necessary. The Magistrate sentenced the accused to pay a fine of Rs. 2.

A SUSPECTED THIEF.—At the Girgaum Police Court yesterday, Abdul Rahman, [illegible] character against whom there appeared a register of seven previous convictions, was charged by Inspector Greyhurst, before Mr. W. R. Hamilton, Second Presidency Magistrate, with having in his possession a silver watch, valued at Rs. 15, reasonably suspected to have been stolen or fraudulently obtained. The accused in his defence said that he purchased the watch from a shopkeeper, at Chindi Bazar, but was unable to recognise the man. The Magistrate convicted and sentenced the accused to undergo three months' hard labour.

WEARING ANOTHER MAN'S SHOES.—Ramzan Kala Khan, a Mahomedan, was yesterday placed before Mr. C. W. Richardson, at the Esplanade Police Courts, by Constable Good, on two separate charges of theft of a pair of shoes and a velvet cap, valued at Rs. 14. The prisoner from the testimony of a witness, who arrested him, said that he had entered the Chotani Mosque, at Memon Moholla, without any shoes on his feet. On quitting it he was observed to be wearing shoes. Sayyid Pir Mahomed claimed the shoes ; while shortly after another Mussulman, named Haroon Ahmed, claimed the velvet cap which the prisoner had on his head. Both the complainants identified their property, and the prisoner admitted his guilt. Three previous convictions were proved against him, and the Magistrate passed a sentence of nine months' rigorous imprisonment.

BREACH OF TRUST BY A BILL-COLLECTOR.—Pandoo Sabaji, formerly engaged as a bill-collector to Jehangir B. Murzban and Company, was placed in the dock yesterday, at the Esplanade Police Courts, before Mr. C. P. Cooper, Chief Presidency Magistrate, charged with criminal breach of trust and misappropriation of Rs. 51, the aggregate of three outstanding bills, for the collection of which the accused was responsible. Dorabjee B. Kotwalla appeared and claimed Rs. 300 that had been recovered by the prisoner, who failed to account for it. The prosecution, however, could only be instituted on three counts, to which Pandoo pleaded guilty. Pandoo was apprehended on a warrant at Vingorla, after absconding from Bombay three months previous to his arrest. The bench convicted him of the offence and passed a sentence of one year's rigorous imprisonment.

A SELF-EXTINGUISHING LANTERN.—Mr. N. D. Karani, engineer, employed in the Jubilee Mills, has invented a self-extinguishing lantern, which will prove very useful in factories and warehouses. When ramoosies take their night rounds in mills and godowns, the slipping of an ordinary lamp from their hands through accident or negligence may add to disastrous consequences, especially if some combustible material is about. Mr. Karani's invention entirely precludes the possibility of a fire on the lantern falling from the hand, because as soon as it leaves its hold, the extinguisher comes down upon the light which is put out before the lantern reaches the ground. The contrivance is simple, and at the same time perfect, so far as it goes. Owners of mills, factories, and warehouses may find it to their interest to use the new invention in place of ordinary lamps, and thus avoid a possible danger from fire. A patent has been obtained for the invention.

AN INHUMAN ACT.—Fateh Mahomed Adam was charged on remand yesterday, at the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. C. W. Richardson, Third Presidency Magistrate, with causing grievous hurt, on the 13th instant. Abdul Rayman Mungul, the complainant, stated that he was struck with a stick by the prisoner, at about half-past six on the evening in question, with such severity and violence that his left collar bone was broken. The prisoner then attempted to throw the young complainant out of a window. The result was that Abdul Rayman Mungul's forehead was injured in the fall, and he was picked up and conveyed to the Goculdas Tejpal Hospital, where he was detained for about sixteen days. The prisoner submitted in defence that he struck the boy a blow in the face and in order to escape him the latter jumped through the window. The Magistrate convicted Fattoy Mahomed of his inhuman act and passed a sentence of two months' rigorous imprisonment.

THE DISHONEST SERVANT.—Dewshunker Chuggan was yesterday charged on remand before Mr. C. W. Richardson, at the Esplanade Police Courts, by Inspector Butterfield with theft, as a servant, of gold and silver ornaments and currency notes, valued on an aggregate at Rs. 7,381, and Motteechund Bheemjee, Kalidass Chuggan, and Mooneea Shamjee, his accomplices with GOLD FRAMED SPECTACLES.

OF all the Metals used for making Spectacle Frames Gold is pre-eminently the best for considerations of mere utility, but no greater mistake could be made than to allow the idea of intrinsic value or portable property to intrude. Pure Gold would be less fit for the purpose than almost any other pure Metal, though when judiciously alloyed, it has decided advantages, which contribute to give it the highly desirable quality of greater durability, and to secure the even more important result of retaining the Pebbles more reliably in the required position, an accomplished Gold Spectacle Frame maker is "rara avis" in Europe, and does not exist in India. Next to Gold as the most suitable Metal comes Nickel which, though less intrinsically valuable than Silver, makes a lighter and more serviceable frame, and has the one great advantage over Steel, that it is not liable to oxydize or corrode.

THE ALLEGED OUTRAGE AT POONA.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

POONA, MAY 29.

Gungaram Bhow's case being resumed to-day, Jainabai was further cross-examined by Mr. Mehta. She stated that Gungaram caught hold of her hand when he entered her room, but did not attempt to pull off the gold bangle she was wearing.

Rajabhoy, who was next cross-examined, said he assisted in holding Gungaram when he was in Jainabai's room, and insisted that a policeman removed Gungaram from that room into Babajee's shop ; but he could not identify the policeman. He denied having seen or spoken to Inspector Guider that night, and suggested that the wound on Gungaram's forehead, which was bleeding before he was removed to Babaji's shop, might have been caused by knocking against the door or something else.

The case stands adjourned till Monday.

DEARTH IN THE MALABAR DISTRICT.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

MADRAS, MAY 29.

The Mail says that disquieting news comes from the Malabar district, where the prospects of the season are causing apprehension to the Collector and his divisional officers. Prices are reported to have risen since the beginning of the month in one part of the district, and scarcity of rice is felt in another part, owing to the difficulty of importation. The usual canal works have already begun, but the budget allotment is considered insufficient ; and famine works have been ordered to be started at once, the wages being limited to the amounts prescribed in the Famine Code, to deter all but the really needy from resorting to the works.

VANITY FAIR.

(FROM OUR LADY CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, MAY 8.

BRITANNIA rules the waves ! This is the burden of our song since their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales opened the Naval Exhibition on Saturday. Britannia rules the mimic waves of the little Chelsea lakes and tanks, as well as the waters of the dominions far and wide, on which the sun never sets. From masthead and lighthouse, snow-hut and watch-tower, the British flag floats triumphantly, without a rival, for the exhibition is purely and essentially British. Hitherto we have graciously admitted other nations to exhibit side by side with us. At "The Fisheries," the flags of the world were represented. There, French sardine boats, Irish travelers, Norwegian fishing smacks, and Greenland whalers met in concord with a view to mutual advantages. At the Health Exhibition, too, all nations came to compare their hygiene ; and there was also welcome for every one at the Danish Exhibition, in compliment to the Royal connection with most of the crowned heads of Europe.

But where our army or navy is concerned, there can be no question of rivalry. Britannia rules the waves ! Any one who has not realized that fact, will not be long left in doubt if he visits the galleries of the Naval Exhibition and examines the fleet in miniature, the torpedo boats of all classes and designs, the deadly guns, the shells, the electric batteries, and all the dreadful resources that Britannia has at hand to revenge intentional slights on her fair name or flag. And, after traversing the galleries of models, if any lingering doubt exists as to Britannia's power to carry her threats into execution, a visit to the picture gallery will set the mind completely at rest. There may be seen disabled ships, dead and dying seamen, wounded commanders, but over all floats the British flag, bloodstained and torn, but always triumphant. The history of British bravery, as told on the canvases at the Naval Exhibition, is glorious, though some of us are so chicken-hearted as to deplore that it had to be painted in blood. Some of us, indeed, cannot walk through the Exhibition without a sickening sensation at the sight of all the death-dealing apparatus; and some are so unpatriotic as to think that even glory may be dearly purchased at the price of a neighbour's life. It needs to be a hero to looks on calmly while ships are fired, while steamers are sunk with hundred-pounders, or blown up with terrible torpedoes. Naturally, we cannot all be heroes. Heroes are got up in a special style —their mechanism is quite different from that of ordinary mortals—they are fitted with all the latest improvements—steel heartstrings, cast-iron consciences—and are warranted thoroughly sentiment-proof. To people not of this warlike calibre it is a little painful to be brought face to face in the Naval Exhibition with so many inventions for the destruction, not the protection, of human life. Perhaps it is the unheroic blood of generations of traders surging in our veins that makes us so white-livered and inclined to feel that Britannia, in her commercial character, transporting her merchandize across the oceans, and carrying peace and plenty in her wake, rules the waves more consistently as a Christian, than when, with her helmet, shield, trident, and cannon ready, she dares any one to approach her.

But excluding the ghastly elements in some of the galleries, the exhibition is very interesting, and very instructive to stay-at-home citizens, as to the manners and customs of those who go down to the sea in ships. On the miniature lake, little vessels sail, and little demonstrations are given of life on the ocean wave ; and though life on such a small ocean-wave is somewhat like a doll's tea-party, it is amusing, and to the untutored mind sufficiently realistic.

In one part of the grounds the Eddystone Lighthouse rises tall and white, a most incongruous-looking object, amidst its brick and mortar surroundings, which are clearly thrown into evidence by the powerful electric light in the lantern. In another part a fishing-smack from the North Seas is stranded high and dry, a poor waif, waiting for the tide that will never come to float it back to the broad waters of Britannia's realm. In a quiet corner under the shadow of the fresh green Hospital trees, the model of the old Victory is moored in a dock of imitation-water, where it can be safely boarded by the enterprising land lubber. A shooting gallery with pasteboard duck, teal, widgeon, plover, careering wildly past the sportsman, supplies the want of the more strictly marine game, such as cormorants, albatrosses, and Mother Carey's chickens, not easily procurable in Chelsea. A snow-hut, a tent, and all the accessories of camping out used by the Arctic Expeditions, are also of interest, and those whose taste for sanguinary horrors is not sufficiently satisfied in the shooting gallery or the picture show may enjoy the full view of the battle of Trafalgar in a panorama. But of all attractions the most popular is under the Bandstand—not the music, though this is excellent and soul-inspiring—not relics gathered up after naval engagements—not shreds of lace and bunting torn from departed heroes—no—tell it not in Gath, lest the mild Hindu be scandalized at the manner in which the Cockney takes his pleasure at the Naval Exhibition. The most popular attraction there is the photographic machine on the penny-in-the-slot system, before which the British public pose in turn and is caricatured to its heart's content. But though the likenesses are not exactly what Walery or Elliott Fry would boast of, they were not all bad. A pretty fair little Bluecoat boy had a very pretty little picture taken of his smiling face, by standing in front of the machine for a few seconds after depositing the penny. It is rather exciting waiting for the portrait, which, after a pause of a minute or so, drops down wet from the chemical bath, and it is delightful to watch the expression of the person photographed. Some look like prosecuting the owners of the machine for libel, while others are so innocently delighted at anything at all resembling their features, that they at once invest a second penny in a frame. Is not such an invention, imperfect as it is, sufficient to make the Immortal Forty at the Royal Academy shake in their artistic shoes ? What will become of the art of portraiture in face of this formidable rival ?

Happily for the R.As and A.R.As, the time when duchesses and dukes, mayors and bishops pose before the penny-in-the-slot machine for their portraits, is not yet arrived. At the opening of the Academy this was clearly proved by the number of portraits that hung on prominent places in the various rooms. The president, besides his two classic compositions, exhibits a portrait of Mr. A. B. Freeman-Mitford. W. Q. Orchardson, R.A., deserts his society subjects for portraits ; and Goodall R.A., Alma Tadema, Millais, W. F. Yeames, R. A., and others, who have hitherto painted ideal pictures, are this year to be found in the ranks of the portrait-painters.

"That is Mr. Walter Gilbey by Orchardson. Exactly like him, too," one young lady said to her friend. "Oh, ah, does he always wear that coloured suit ?" alluding to the hideous yellow tweed in which Mr. Orchardson had chosen to paint his sitter. "Then, I cannot say his portrait was painted in compliment to his beauty," was the remark, which closed the subject.

One of the most attractive pictures in the first room is Briton Riviere's triptych "A Mighty Hunter before the Lord." The scene in the middle is a desert by daylight ; a lioness lies wounded, and a lion is attacking a chariot drawn by two frightened horses, one man holding the reins while the others fight for their lives.

It is night in the side pictures. In one the lioness is dead, and a lion raises his voice in mourning for her. In the other the lion is dying, and the lioness is sorrowfully licking his wounds. That the picture evokes more sympathy with the wounded and dying beasts than with the mighty hunter before the Lord, is evidence that the hunter has not had justice done him by the painter, or that our sense of justice is not with trespassers in the lion's domain, but with injured beasts. "On Strike," diploma work by Hubert Herkomer, is an unpleasant rendering of an unpleasant subject. In the foreground of a cottage a man with lowering brows and a depraved villainous face is standing, behind him his wretched wife, with a melancholy depraved looking baby, the image of its father ; and farther in the background, a little girl. As a composition the picture is unsuccessful, and if the painter wished for historical accuracy, less wickedness and more misery in the man's face would have been better. Any one who has seen London labourers at the close of a long strike would never liken them to this well-fed criminal-looking wretch. Such wan, worn faces, such shrunken figures, such dull despair as the real striker wears, carry conviction that, right or wrong, the man is suffering severely in the cause.

A portrait of the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, by Alma Tadema, R.A., is striking, but not strikingly good. It is easy to recognize the face from the myriads of pen-and-ink sketches of Parliament ; but it is not a characteristic likeness.

Perseus and Andromeda, by Sir Frederick Leighton, is a fresh evidence of the President's skill in colouring, composition, and exquisite grace of line. It is in the usual decorative style that he affects, and it keeps up his reputation for the successful treatment of strained heroic subjects.

Alma Tadema's painting of the passive languorous phase of classic compositions is as successful in his picture of a young mother playing with her baby. It is called "An Earthly Paradise." "All the heaven of heavens in one little child."—Swinburne. The baby lies on an inlaid couch with cushions and draperies, and is trying to put the rich purple anemones with which he is surrounded, in his mother's hair. The mother, wearing a dark-blue transparent classic gown, is of the ruddy type, which the painter so often introduces in his pictures, and the soft white of her flesh tints is specially charming.

LOHOGAD.

THE hill fort of Lohogad is one of the most important in Western India. Its history can be traced back possibly to the time of Ptolemy, certainly to the end of the fifteenth century, when it was taken by Malik Ahmad. It has suffered from the ravages of time perhaps less than any other of our hill forts. Finally, it only takes a journey of an hour-and-a-half from Lonauli to get inside its walls. Yes, in spite of all this, only a very small proportion of the hot weather visitors to Lanouli and Khandalla are enterprising enough to pay it a visit. Perhaps the following sketch, showing how easily the expedition can be effected, may have the happy effect of inducing one or two who might otherwise not have thought of it to go and breathe the fresh air that blows over the summit of Lohogad.

Taking the train that ought to have reached Karli at 5-35, we found ourselves landed at that platformless station, a little before six. The railway porter in five minutes procured us two natives of the place, who were willing and able to carry our lunch baskets up to Lohogad. Our route was level till we past Bhaja, celebrated for its cave temples. After passing through the town we began to ascend, and looking back saw the entrance of those cave temples in the side of a hill some four hundred feet above the village. The ascending path led us to an elevated plateau, where we had Lohogad on our right and the sister fort of Visapur on our left. Then we had to turn to the right round to the east side of Lohogad, so as to get to the village of the same name below the south-east corner of the hill, from which is the only practicable approach to the fort. On the right hand of the path, just before it reaches the village of Lohogad, is a small enclosure containing thirteen little stone horses, said to be the stud of Shaik Umar, who, though a Mussulman saint, was presented by our Hindu coolies with offerings of leaves as they passed. Indeed they insisted on us too making a similar offering as we passed. In Lohogad itself, we were joined by the patel of the place, who seems to think it part of his official duties to accompany visitors to the fort. The entrance is by a long winding passage defended by the Ganesh, Narayen, Hanumant, and Maha gates, the strong teak wood-work of which was spared by the British guns in 1818, and still remains. We entered the lowest, or Ganesh gate at a quarter-past seven o'clock. This gate was built in the time of Nana Fadnavis. The story of the laying of its foundations is similar to that told of the building of the Roman Capitol. For, as we learn from the Gazetteer, the foundations of the bastion of this gate would not stand firm, until a Maratha man and woman had been buried alive on the spot. The Ganesh gate is protected on its upper part, where the head of an elephant used as a battering ram would strike it by long iron spikes. The sight of these defences enables us vividly to realise the story of the Rajput Decius, who, when his elephant shrank from dashing its head against the gate, of a hostile fortress, deliberately placed his body as a cushion outside the gate, so that the elephant no longer refusing to charge broke open the gate and of course at the same time crushed to death the devoted Rajput. Three other inner gates of great strength had to be forced before an enemy could get inside the fortress. The staircases between the different gates were perfectly commanded by bastions armed with cannon, some of which still lie about dismounted near their original positions. As the rest of the circuit was perfectly defended by precipitous cliffs, extraordinary efforts were made to render inpregnable the one accessible corner, and it is hard to imagine how this complicated system of defences could ever have been broken through by a storming force. Between the second and third gates are two large chambers in the rock, that used to be used as granaries. From the floor of one of them the patel, who proved an efficient cicerone, picked up some grains of nachni. Were these the genuine remains of the old Mahratta stores, or had the patel put them there himself, in order to reproduce them for the satisfaction of visitors like us ? After making our way up the long staircase through the successive gates, and from the loopholed chambers commanding the approach to the fort looking down on the village below embowered in beautiful trees and on the distant view extending as far as Guneshkind, we at last find ourselves inside the renowned fortress. Before our eyes, as we emerge from the gateway, there is a stern square tower of other days, firm as a fortress with its fence of stone.

What was this tower of strength ? Within its cave what treasure lay so lock'd, so hid ? a woman's grave.

It is said to be a cenotaph, built in honour of Aurangzebe and one of his wives, but on the two tombstones inside there is no inscription to confirm the tale. The inner walls of the mausoleum are indeed covered with inscriptions, but unfortunately they only immortalise the names of the Indian and European Joneses, Browns, and Robinsons, who have in these latter days clambered inside the building. The hill-top is well supplied with water. Although the largest tank has run dry, there are several smaller ones containing water of all colours, green, brown, and yellow. The floor of one rock-cut room is covered with water so pellucid that one can hardly see it, but the patel tells us that in spite of its seeming purity it is not good to drink. The best drinking water is found in a small hole in the rock called the Peshwa's spring. There are plenty of objects of interest to be seen on the hill-top, underground chambers, shrines, ruins of walls, &c., all of which can be easily identified by the help of the Gazetteer and the patel, who lighted up a bonfire of dry grass to illumine the darkness of the treasure house, and reveal the earthen coffers, in which the rupees used to be stored. The Lakshmi Kothi and the chambers behind, whose construction is traditionally ascribed to the Pandava brothers, form a regular labyrinth of caves, that might have been a satisfactory dwelling for an Indian minotaur. Outside these caves above the precipice in the east to the left of the gateway there are cannons lying about, some whole and some broken, and one with a stone cannon ball fixed in its muzzle. Of these stone cannon balls there is a large number lying on the ground on the north-west of the fort. One little one we carried away in our tiffin basket as a memento of our visit to the fort. We found a most comfortable and cool breakfast parlour just inside the Maha gate, where a stone platform in the cool shade served at once as table and bench. The rising sun however presently made this position untenable. There are many rock chambers on the hill-top, and one or two roofed-rooms in the gateway, but these, though they give shade, deny fresh air. So we had to take refuge through the middle of the day, under one of the few trees that grow on the hill-top. By three o'clock the westering sun allowed us to descend the staircase on the east to the village of Lohogad, where it was necessary to engage a new cooly to accompany us on our walk home. For the cooly who had spent the day with us on the top of the hill had been reduced to a state of semi-starvation owing to the ridiculous restrictions imposed by the tyranny of caste. He had eaten nothing before starting with us. We offered him bread, meat, and biscuits, but he refused them with a deprecating shake of the hand. Eggs, he said, he ate, but even these he would not take from our hands. At last he began to pluck the monkey figs from the tree under which we were bivouacking. This reminded us that we had some plantains in the basket, and these to our great relief he did not refuse to take and eat. The plantain is said to be very nourishing, but I am afraid he must have found them rather insufficient sustenance for a hard day's work. After some delay we managed to get a new cooly and started straight for Khandalla, instead of going back by Karli. Setting out at four o'clock we passed along a wooded plateau, which affords a fine view of the wall of precipice by which Lohogad is impregnably defended on the south. After walking for an hour-and-a-half by shady pathways, we struck the old highway to Poona, called the Peshwa's Road, which, passing on the left of the Lanowli wood, brought us to Khandalla by seven o'clock.

The total receipts from April 1st to May 9th are Rs. 1,75,718 better than they were last year. Coaching traffic shows an increase in passengers and receipts ; but goods, an increase in the amount of goods carried, but a decrease in the receipts for carrying them.

THE EAST COAST RAILWAY.

A CORRESPONDENT writes :—It is hardly credible that "for want of funds" the work of the northern section is to be stopped. Whether for want of funds or any other cause the work on the northern or Chiparapilli section is to be discontinued from the 25th instant. All contractors are to be paid up and temporary hands are to be dismissed ! By outsiders the progress of work during the past six months may be considered fair. The earthwork in embankment, the cuttings and bridges show signs of work having been done. But taking the "percentage of supervision" with the "work executed to date" the progress has been very slow ! Why ? Because the rates, being so miserably low, the contractors have lost heart, and only carry out certain works to make both ends meet. The salaries of so many Engineers, upper and lower subordinates, masters on this State Railway, if continued much longer, will exceed the expenditure of work completed to date ! Had a "company" taken the construction of the whole length of railway from Bezwada, the progress to date would be double to that now executed. This is an important line of railway, and every effort should be made to push it on towards completion. There has been a muddle somewhere. New alignments are to be made between Bezwada and Tuni. This is certainly not creditable. To ensure food and speedy rate of work, reasonable rates should at once be sanctioned by the Madras Government. The rainy season is fast approaching and bridge-work below flood level will be at a stand-still. The Engineer-in-Chief cannot be blamed for the low rates now being paid ; but a "revised" or "supplementary" estimate could be submitted for sanction. Hopes are entertained that by the end of the official year (March 1892) some portion of the line will be opened for traffic.

THE SALVATION ARMY LABOUR BUREAU.

IN connection with the Bombay Branch of the Salvation Army Social Reform Work, a labour bureau was opened at the head-quarters, Esplanade, on the 8th ult., with a view to ascertaining, as far as possible, the amount and character of the unemployed labour in the city, and finding employment for all. This effort has been in a measure successful in spite of considerable difficulty, and, writes a correspondent, I am convinced that this success could be very much increased if employers would avail themselves of the existence of the bureau. Up to date there have been 1,106 applicants for employment, and although only twenty-four applications from employers have been received, they have succeeded in finding work for a considerable number of these applicants, mostly permanent situations. To largely increase the success of this effort to help the unemployed the secretary is anxious to secure the co-operation of employers, to whom it would be a great advantage to make use of this agency ; the officers obtain full particulars with reference to applicants, and verify certificates, &c., thus saving a great deal of labour to large employers, while at the same time, having always a number of unemployed people on our books, the officials are able at a very short notice to provide almost any class of labour required. The Salvationists are also establishing a cheap "Food and Shelter," and "Labour Yard" at Byculla, where they will shortly be prepared to give temporary employment to really destitute people, while the labour bureau will endeavour to find for them permanent work. The Salvationists are convinced that there is a field of labour for all these "Out-of-Works," and that it only requires that both employers and unemployed shall avail themselves of the advantages of such an agency as the bureau, that this waste labour shall be utilized to the advantage of the community generally. All applications should be made to the Secretary, Salvation Army Labour Bureau, Bombay.

THE PORBANDER P. W. D. INVESTIGATION.

We learn from the Kathiawar Times that the charges brought by Mr. Pandit, the Administrator of Porbander, against Mr. Mathews Veveross, an overseer in the Porbander Public Works Department, and heard by Mr. F. C. O'Beaman, C.S., the Judicial Assistant to the Political Agent, have all been dismissed and the accused has been acquitted. It is understood that Government have asked Mr. Sladen to submit a detailed report in connection with the Porbander Public Works Department cases.

The cases have been for six months under investigation, and the inquiry, it is feared, though, no doubt, profitable to the pleaders engaged, will prove very costly to the State. There were five charges against Veveross, besides several against contractors and others. Two of the five against Veveross were dismissed by Mr. Sladen, the Assistant Political Agent, after a preliminary enquiry ; those which went to the Judicial Assistant's Court have been, as stated above, dismissed.

THE CHARGE OF CHEATING.

WILLIAM HENRY GUEST, who was discharged on Thursday by Mr. C. W. Richardson, Third Presidency Magistrate, on a charge of cheating, brought against him by Haji Fateh Mahomed Rahimtulla, made an application yesterday, before the same Magistrate that the bogus telegram, dated November 3, and the receipt produced in the case should be kept until such time as he required them since the telegram sworn to proved to be false, and the receipt that was identified on oath was proved as not appertaining to it. The applicant further prayed that the power-of-attorney given him by H. H. the Maharajah Kishore Sing, of Jodhpore, should likewise be retained on the following grounds :—

(1.) "Because this document was his (the applicant's) property ; (2) because it was put in by his solicitor with the consent of the complainant's vakil ; (3) because the evidence regarding the complainant obtaining possession of it proved to be false ; (4) because he had proved that it was stolen ; (5) because it had been subsequently used as an instrument for extorting money in conjunction with the false evidence, which had been fabricated to support the charge against Mr. Guest that was dismissed.

Mr. Richardson was of opinion that the power-of-attorney could only be returned to the person who put it in.

Mr. Guest informed his Worship that Mr. Crawford, his solicitor, put it in after being produced by Mr. Rele, the opposing counsel.

Mr. Richardson said he would consider the matter. The document, however, would have to remain with the Court for a period of two months, and in the event of an application from the complainant not being made for it at the end of that time, Mr. Guest could move the Court for the issue of a process against the complainant to show cause why the power-of-attorney should not be returned to him (Mr. Guest). The documents were, therefore,

Gilbert?—Mr. Gilbert sent for me. I don't know how he knew about me.

Did you know when you made a statement to Mr. Gilbert that Abdul Kadir had also made a statement?—No, I did not know. The following day Mr. Gilbert called me and Abdul Kadur.

What happened then? Did not Abdul Kadur contradict you?—No.

Did not Abdul Kadur say that he was in the Translator's office at the time?—I was not aware that Abdul Kadur had made a statement at the time.

Did not Abdul Kadur contradict your statement?—He said something to the sahib in English which I did not understand.

Before you made your first statement to Mr. Gilbert, had you told anybody in the office that you had seen Abdul Kadur at his desk when the ladies fell?—No. I had told no one.

Do you know a clerk named Purshotum Harilal?—Yes.

Did he go with Abdul Kadur?—Yes.

Why did you not mention his name when I asked you?—I did not remember all the names.

A Juror: On the day of the accident, were you in you office between 3 and 4 p.m.?—Yes.

Did you see Abdul Kadir in office about 3-45 p. m.?—No.

How long did it take you to come to the Tower from your office?

The Coroner: It is the Nationed Bank building.

Another Juror: How do you know that Abdoo Kadur did not go out between 3 and 3-45 p.m.?—I had seen him at his desk.

All the time?—Yes.

You had your eyes for three-quarters of an hour fixed upon him?—I saw him as I see other clerks.

Another Juror: If he had left the office, would you have seen him?—Yes. I go all over the office, but never go out, except under the orders of the bill-maker.

Provided you are in the office, do you pay particular attention to the coming and going of clerks?—I don't.

Mr. Craigie: When you first made your statement to Mr. Gilbert, why did you not say you saw Abdul Kadur sitting at his desk when the news of the accident came?—I did tell Mr. Gilbert.

In your statement there is not a word about your having seen Abdul Kadur sitting at his desk in his office?—I said so.

Then Mr. Gilbert did not take it down?—I don't know.

Mr. Reginald Gilbert, partner in Messrs. Payne, Gilbert and Sayani, said: In consequence of certain information I made inquiry of my clerks if they knew anything about the fall at the Rajabai Tower, and the result was that Abdul Kadur made a statement to me in which he mentioned my sepoy Lukhia. As soon as Lukhia came to the office that afternoon, I had him questioned. I was called away and left one of my clerks to take down the statement. As soon as I came back, I made additions to that statement. On the 22nd I questioned Lukhia further, and then it was that he stated that Abdul Kadur was in my office when he was supposed to be in the Tran slater's office, or outside my office. The same day somebody in my office told me that Lukhia knew that Abdul Kadur was in my office.

Mr. Craigie: So far as your recollection goes, was anything said to you by Lukhia.?—On the first occasion he said nothing to me about Abdul Kadur being in the office when the news of the fall came. I think he could not have done so, or I would have taken it down.

When you questioned him subsequently, did you not ask him why he had not mentioned that fact?—He did not know, so far as I know, what Abdul Kadur had said when he made his first statement.

Who was it that told you that Lukhia would be able to prove that Abdul Kadur was not in the Translator's office?—It was one of my clerks.

You have seen Supt. Brewin about this matter; was it before or after your second questioning of Lukhia?—It must have been before the second questioning.

What did Mr. Brewin come to see you about?—The evidence of Lukhia and Abdul Kadur.

Did Mr. Brewin tell you that he had received information that Lukhia would be able to prove that Abdul Kadur was not in the Translator's office?—Mr. Brewin did not make any statement to me, but on the other hand, I mentioned the fact to him.

Then the fact is that the information as to what Lukhia could prove, was not given by Mr. Brewin to you, but by you to Mr. Brewin?—Yes.

I believe that you confronted Abdul Kadur and the sepoy?—Yes.

Did you tell Abdul Kadur what he had said?—Yes, I think so.

Did you tell Lukhia what Abdul Kadur had said?—I believe I told my clerk to tell him the pith of what had been said.

Did Lukhia say that what Abdul Kadur had said was not true?—They both stuck to their statements.

Do you know anything which will throw light on these two conflicting statements?—A clerk of mine, named Pradhan, told me that he saw Abdul Kadur standing near the National Bank, talking to some clients at about a quarter to four, and that was said to be shortly after the accident.

When Pradhan saw Abdul Kadur outside the bank, where was he going?—To my office.

Do you know whether Pradhan was the man who first announced the news of the fall in your office?—I am told so.

Have you made any enquiries which would go to prove that Abdul Kadur was in your office at the time the fall was announced?—I have asked, but have elicited nothing.

I think it is very important that Pradhan should be brought here to be examined.

Mr. Frere: When you first questioned Lukhia, the only reason you had for doing so, was because of a statement made by Abdul Kadur?—Yes.

In that statement of Abdul Kadur there is only a reference to sending Lukhia at the Tower?—Yes.

When was Lukhia's first statement taken?—On the afternoon of the 21st.

Were you in a hurry when you took that statement?—Yes.

A Juryman: If Abdul Kadur had gone to the Translator's office on business that day, would you have known about it?—No.

Is he in the habit of going there?—Yes, constantly.

Does he sit with the other clerks?—Yes.

Pardhan Bhicoba said: I am a clerk to Messrs. Payne, Gilbert, and Sayani. I remember the fact of the two ladies falling from the Tower. I was at the High Court when I heard of it. I went straight to my office.

When did you next see Abdul Kadur after hearing of the fall?—He was standing in the street at the south-east corner of the National Bank.

What was he doing?—Speaking with some clients.

Did you see where he went from there?—No.

Where did you go?—Straight to the office.

Did you announce the fall to the clerk, in the office?—Yes.

Did you see people going towards the Rajabai Tower?—Yes, as I was going to the office.

What time was it?—Nearly a quarter to four.

Mr. Craigie: When you saw Abdul Kadur at the corner of the Bank, did you leave him there?—Yes.

He did not accompany you to the office?—No.

At the time you announced the fall at your office, Abdul Kadur was not there?—No.

Did you say anything to Abdul Kadur of what you had heard?—No.

A Juryman: Before you left your office, did you see Abdul Kadur in the office?—No.

Purshotum Harilal, recalled, said he knew the sepoy Lukhia. I don't know whether it was him. I was asked to come to the inquest by Mr. Gilbert, and I told him I was not willing to go. I then received a summons.

A Farsee, at this stage of the proceeding, came forward, and demanded to give evidence.

Mr. Frere: What is your evidence?—I want it to be taken down.

You had better come to my office?—I don't want to come to your office.

The Coroner: What do you wish to say.

Mr. Frere: We will first take the other witness, and then hear what this man has to say.

Framrose Dossabhoy Mutabhoy, assistant weaving master at the Coorla Mills, said: I remember the Parsee ladies falling from the Rajabai Tower. I saw one fall and I saw another thrown down. I was walking in Hornby road and had reached the south-east corner of the National Bank. It was above half-past three then. I pulled out my watch from my pocket, and looked up at the University Clock. It was exactly half-past three by the University Clock, and my watch was five minutes fast. When I looked at the clock I saw something falling from the Tower, and it had reached down to the roof of the Library. I looked up and was thinking what could have fallen. I look up again and saw something thrown down. I saw something pushed out from the Tower. I saw some persons on the top of the Tower, three or four. Two or three were on the east side, and one on the north.

Mr. Frere: Is that the reason you say the bundle was thrown out, because you saw it far from the Tower?—I saw the hand of a man push the body out.

How was it thrown?—It was pushed off the top balcony wall.

Before it was pushed off, was it resting on the parapet?—I could not say. Before it was pushed it was standing on the same level as the person pushing it.

Was the body over the parapet?—I only saw the upper portion of the body pushed.

How was it sent over the parapet?—I cannot say.

Could you see anything of the person who pushed it?—No.

Can you say whether it was a man or woman?—A man.

Was he a Parsee, Mussulman, or what?—The distance was too great.

The people on the other side, did they appear to be about the same size as the other?—Yes.

You saw one of the bodies much further out than the other?—Yes.

How much?—About two yards.

When did you first mention about this?—I mentioned that evening in my club to Ardesir Nusserwanjee Pleader and others.

You know every one has been anxious to get light on this occurrence; why did you not come forward and offer your evidence?—I gave Mr. Stanford the evidence as soon as he came to me.

When was that?—On the 24th of this month.

Before that, you had not given information to the police?—No.

Do you know of any inaccuracies in your statement?—No.

Did you mention this to any one after you were at the club?—No.

How much of the body of the person pushing did you see?—I saw from his waist.

A Juryman: Did you wait to see what became of the man who pushed the bundle down?—No, I had to go to a wedding.

You were not sure of your own statement until you read in the newspapers?—I know what I saw.

The Coroner: He will not say that.

The Parsee who claimed to give evidence then came forward. He said: My name is Jamsetjee Sorabjee Temuljee Enty. I am an assistant and managing clerk to Messrs. Conroy and Brown, solicitors, Bombay. I live in the Fort. On Saturday, the 26th April, I attended, with my master, Mr. Couroy, at a meeting before Mr. Farran, the Commissioner for taking accounts, in a matter in which Messrs. Forbes and Co. were plaintiffs. It was fixed at three o'clock. About a quarter-past three Mr. Conroy left Mr. Farran's chamber to attend Hormasjee's meeting, and left me there to examine Mr. John Campbell, the engineer. Mr. Campbell missed the court and did not attend. Mr. Farran and I waited until after half-past three, and as Mr. Campbell could not come, the meeting was postponed until half past two the following Monday. I left Mr. Farran's court and came down from the High Court by the stairs in front of the National Bank. When I came out of the verandah of the High Court, I saw people running in the direction of the Rajabai Tower. I handed over all the papers to a sepoy, with the exception of a folded piece of paper, which remained in my hands. I ran to the Tower. I went into the compound of the Tower by the turnstile on the north. When I came near the hall, I saw Buchoobai laid in the inner verandah of the porch. She had a sarree on her body, and her face and left hand were exposed to view. I waited for about four minutes. In the meantine Pherozbai was brought in a victoria. She was laid by the side of Buchoobai. I waited four minutes longer, when I went into the compound, about forty or fifty feet to the north entrance to the porch. In the meantine I saw Superintendent McDermott knocking at all the doors to ascertain if they were locked. He came and asked me if I knew the parents of the girls. I suggested one or two names, and he went into the Tower. About five or seven minutes after, whilst I was staying in the same position, Mr. McDermott brought a Parsee, whose name I subsequently learned was Manookjee Ashajee, from the direction of the Tower, holding him by his neck. He came in my direction. As soon as I saw the face of the Parsee in custody of Mr. McDermott I told Mr. McDermott, from the very face and eyes, that he must be the man.

At this point the Coroner consulted with Mr. Frere.

Proceeding, witness said: He must be the man who had committed the mischief, and I requested him not to let him loose. Mr. McDermott questioned me whether I knew him, and I said no, but I asked him to question Manookjee as to why his jacket was torn and this pantaloons soiled. I questioned the Parsee in Guzarati. He stated that he was on the second floor of the Tower, and while he was there he saw two Kojah's scuffling with the two ladies, and he interfered and got his jacket torn. He further said it was he who induced the gate-keeper to allow the girls to see the Tower. Mr. McDermott then took the Parsee out of the compound in the direction of Rotton Row. Soon after that I saw one Dinshaw Sorabjee Biscuitmaker in the compound near me, and I told him that a Parsee in custody of the police has admitted certain things, and he said he saw the Parsee with two Kojahs.

Mr. Frere: I must object to that.

The Coroner: We cannot take what Dinshaw said to you. We can call Dinshaw.

Witness, continuing: I think the Coroner ought to take it down, and say Mr. Frere objected.

The Coroner: We cannot take down what Mr. Dinshaw told you, but we may take down Dinshaw's own statement.

Continuing, witness said: Immediately Mr. McDermott entered the compound, I said to him he could very easily trace out the names of the two Khojas in Messrs. Ishinia and Motilal's office. About four or five minutes after, Mr. McDermott came back and said he must bring that matter to the notice of the Commissioner of Police. The sepoy who followed him had some French paper and a pencil in his hand. Mr. McDermott tore a piece of paper out and commenced writing, which he placed on the paper I had hold of in my hand. He said whilst writing it was not a suicide and I replied, "Most certainly not." He wrote a note to the Commissioner, which, to the best of my recollection, was reporting the mysterious death of two Parsee ladies, and he said something about them being thrown down. He told the policeman to go to the Yacht Club, and if he was not there, to the sahib's bungalow or office.

The Coroner said it was now a quarter-past seven, he would adjourn the inquest until to-day at 2 p.m., when the last witness will be cross-examined.

THE NATIVE PRESS.

MR. JOHN NUGENT, C. S.

The Indu Prakash remarks:—The Bombay Graduates' Association has passed a resolution thanking Mr. John Nugent, C S., for the cordial way in which he promoted the interests of Graduates in carrying out the resolution of Sir Richard Temple providing for their employment in the Revenue service. Those who have known Mr. Nugent intimately speak very highly of his real kindness of heart and sympathy with educational matters. His removal from the Secretariat to the districts, however it may help him to rise higher in the scale of service, is a loss to the Secretariat, more especially to the Graduates whose cause he championed. Let us hope his absence will not cause a break in the policy and that the traditions and precedents he has laid down will be followed.

The Rast Goftar states:—The Bombay Graduates' Association gave Mr. John Nugent his due by passing a resolution, recording their cordial acknowledgment of his encouragement of higher education by employing graduates in the Secretariat. The occasion for the resolution is the transfer of Mr. Nugent from the Secretariat to the Commissionership of a Division. Mr. Nugent is known as an upright and able official with sympathies broader than what can usually be found within the charmed circle of the hierarchy to which he belongs. Besides being a practical recognition of higher education, his employment of University men must result in raising the efficiency of the public service.

THE TANSA LOAN REPAYMENT.

The Gujarati discourses:—The representation addressed by the Corporation to the Government of India on the limitation the latter have imposed upon the period for the repayment of the Tansa Loan gives weighty reasons for the concession that is now asked of them. The brief historical review of the circumstances under which the Corporation was embarked upon the gigantic scheme leaves no doubt that Government have in this matter dealt very unfairly with the Corporation, when they should have promptly come forward to assist an undertaking of vast dimensions fraught with beneficial consequences to the present as well to future generations. A careful perusal of the representation shows beyond doubt that both the Provincial and Supreme Governments saw nothing objectionable in spreading the payment of the loan over sixty-years—the maximum limit fixed in the Bombay Municipal Act with the sanction and approval of the Government of India. It is not only inconsistent but even unjust on the part of Government to have encouraged the Corporation to embark on a scheme involving pecuniary obligations to the extent of nearly a crore and a half, to have actually sanctioned the first two instalmentas amounting to 47 lakhs on the basis of the limit of sixty years and then to have suddenly curtailed the period to forty years. Such a decision has already imposed sudden and serious burdens on the ratepayers and if Government obstinately adhere to their former resolution, the much needed sanitary improvements will have perforce to be postponed.

MR. JUSTICE FARRAN.

The India Prakash says:—The Council of the Bombay Presidency Association has passed a resolution praying Government to confirm Mr. Justice Farran in his appointment as Judge of the High Court. This expression of opinion on behalf of the Bombay public will, it is to be hoped, strengthen the hands of the Government in its recommendation of Mr. Justice Farran for the permanent vacancy. It is now more than a month since Mr. Justice Scott vacated his office, but it does not yet appear on whom the choice is to fall. The post is in the gift of the Secretary of State and is a piece of patronage which the Indian authorities in England are not likely to let slip out of their hands. But if Bombay opinion is to be consulted and the claims of Bombay men to be respected, the choice will unmistakably fall on Mr. Justice Farran. Let us hope the Secretary of State will not disappoint Bombay.

The Gujerat Mitra has it:—The whole press, Anglo-Indian and native of the Presidency, is down upon the Home Government which desires to appoint an English barrister to the vacant seat in the Bombay High Court caused by Mr. Justice Scott's permanent appointment in the Egyptian Court. It is widely reported that this English barrister is thus being rewarded by the party in power for the services he has done to it. Cannot such valuable services be rewarded much nearer at home where party Government actually maintains? What is it if not a sheer injustice to set aside the claims of honest, deserving, able and rightful men in the interest of a party man? What wonder is there then that the masses should loudly bawl out that even with the British Government rules and regulations are but so many instruments of convenience and necessity! It is really unfair that a capable claimant like Mr. Justice Farran should be superseded by one who has no practical experience whatsoever of Indian Judicial systems, but who is merely a party man.

A MONTREAL correspondent writes:—The most remarkable journey ever made across the North American Continent ended with the arrival here of the Canadian Pacific express from Vancouver with the passengers of the steamer Empress of India, who are on a trip round the world. The run to this city—a distance of 29,000 miles—was made in 3 days 17 hours, whereas the time usually occupied is 6½ to 7 days. The average speed for the entire distance was 34 miles an hour, but the train made a record of a mile a minute for hours over the western prairie, and made spurts in some places of 70 to 72 miles an hour. Owing to this marvellous performance the journey from Yokohama to Montreal occupied exactly two weeks. Three passengers left here immediately for New York to catch the Cunard Line Transatlantic steamer, and expect to reach London on Sunday, the 10th instant—only three weeks after leaving Yokohama. Among the passengers was Mr. Charles A. L. Dunn, broker at Shanghai, who is racing the P. and O. steamer, which sailed thence for Liverpool on the same day that he left for Liverpool via Vancouver. He expects that he will arrive in England more than a week in advance of the passengers by this steamer. The performance of the Canadian Pacific train is considered a marvellous achievement on the part of the railway company, which will in future run a similar train to carry the mails from Great Britain for China and Japan and vice versa.

INTELLIGENCE has been received that the faint comet, known as "Wolf's," discovered on September 17 1884, at Heidelberg, has been found by an observer at the Lick Observatory. It is very near the place calculated from the observations made in 1884.

THE FAILURE OF MESSRS. BENN ASHLEY AND CO.

In the London Bankruptcy Court, on the 6th inst., this matter was again referred to a few days before the mail left. The debtors, Charles Edward Benn, Atherton Edward Ashley, and John Grey Russell, traded as East India Merchants and commission agents under the style of Bevis, Russell, and Co., in King William Street City, and at Liverpool and Manchester, and also (under the style of Benn, Ashley and Co.) at Bombay. The receiving order was made in December last, and this was an adjourned sitting for public examination. The debtors Ashley and Russell state that the firm was established in 1876 by Mr. Bevis and themselves with a capital of £40,000. Bevis retired in 1885, withdrawing his capital of about £15,000, and since that date the transactions of the firm have been very large, principally in trade with India. The debtors attributed their failure to losses in trade, and diminution of ore dit owing principally to a crisis in the Liverpool cotton market in August and September 1889; to fluctuation in the value of silver and consequent difficulty in recovering debts due from natives in India; also to the position of financial matters in the City last November. The liabilities are returned in the joint statement of affairs at 201,666*l.*, of which 97,785*l.* will probably rank, with assets estimated to produce 70,600*l.* The attendance of the senior partner, Mr. Benn, was dispensed with, he being in America. The others debtors were examined upon their affairs and accounts, and Mr. Russell stated in the course of his evidence that, after the retirement of Mr. Bevis, Mr. Benn, Mr. Ashley, and himself continued the business with a capital of about 15,000*l.*, he having 10,000*l.*, and the two other partners 5,000*l.*, between them. After the reconstruction of the firm they traded at a profit until the middle of 1889. They then incurred losses by bad debts to the amount of about 6,000*l.*, consequent upon failures in India. They were interested in the Alaska Gold Mining Company, Mr. Benn having obtained a concession of certain mining rights in that country. The firm received 38,000 fully paid up shares as commission on bringing out the company. At the end of 1889 the shares were valued at 9,000*l.*, and if the property had turned out as they expected they would have made a profit over it. When they ascertained that the shares were worthless they wrote off the amount which was placed against them in the books. They had various other dealings in shares. During 1889 they incurred a loss in cotton of 10,000*l.*, consequent upon a great fall in the price after they had effected purchases. They were constantly dealing in cotton. His personal drawings during 1889-90 amounted to 3,455*l.*, but being in India it cost him more to live there than here. He knew the business was going on while he was away. He did not know that the drawings of the partners exceeded the profits, because he thought that the mine would turn out a success. Immediately he found that they were not doing well, he cut down his expenses as much as possible. They became aware that they could not meet their engagements at the time of the loss on cotton. He then raised a loan of 10,000*l.* from his relations, a portion of which ranked against the estate, and Mr. Benn also obtained advances in America. The immediate cause of the failure was the heavy loss on cotton. In reply to Mr. Wade, the debtor stated that the firm had made profits to the amount of from 7,000*l.* to 10,000*l.* a year. The debtor Ashley was then briefly examined, and his Honour allowed the debtors to pass.

A MODERN ALCHEMIST.

At the Marlbrough Police Court, on May 5, Edward Pinter, 56, merchant, of Dover-street, W., was charged with attempting to obtain 40,000*l.* from Mr. E. Streeter, jeweller, by means of a trick.—A large number of bottles of chemicals were placed on the solicitors' table, together with crucibles, and other means of testing the precious metals. There were, besides, a mass of fused gold in the furnace, and prisoner had a bottle of powder, about which there was much mystery.—Mr. Streeter, the Prosecutor, said that on the 25th April he received a letter from Count Kearney, and on the following Monday a gentleman called upon him, and, in consequence of what he said, witness, with one of his assistants, was led to accompany him to Storey's Hotel, Leicester-square. The gentleman was Prisoner Pinter. The Count came in in a short time, and introduced Pinter as a gentleman who was to perform an experiment which had been the subject of their conversation previously. Subsequently they all went up to a bed-room, where Pinter, with some ceremony, laid out the tools produced and explained that he could make one sovereign into three by a discovery of his own.—Mr. Hannay: Does he put two pounds of gold into three by increasing the value or the bulk of gold?—Mr. Streeter: By increasing the bulk. He said that he had discovered the philosopher's stone. In this crucible (produced) we have 20 sovereigns melted to a mass, which in bulk is equivalent to nearly 60. He put in some powder, which I believe to be oxide of gold. Then he put the crucible out to work to work. Taking a sovereign from a bottle of some acid, in which he said it had been soaking for 18 days, he put it into the crucible with the usual flux and a quantity of his mysterious black powder, and proceeded to melt the coin. I watched the process for upwards of an hour, when, my patience becoming exhausted, I told Pinter to remove the crucible from the furnace. In this being done, a nugget, weighing 15 pennyweights—thrice the weight of a sovereign—was found at the bottom. The nugget was given to me and I sent it for assay to Messrs. Johnson and Matthey who reported that it came out between 21 and 22 carats. I was not satisfied, and had the mass melted again and sent back to me. The result of the second assay was even better than before.—Mr. Hannay: What were the Prisoner's proposals to you?—Mr. Streeter: He proposed that I should find 40,000 sovereigns for him to treat in a similar manner to those which he had treated in the experiment. He proposed, also, to take a large house, in which he was to live, and have three large cisterns and a furnace. He said, he explained, was so strong that nobody could live in the same room in which it was exposed, and that it would even destroy the life of a horse. The 40,000 sovereigns were to be soaked in the acid for eighteen days, then melted down with his black powder, and after that it would be found they would be equal to 100,000*l.* As a subsequent interview which he had, I proposed that we should use bars of gold instead of sovereigns, and it would be much better. As I expected, he said he could not do it with bars, as all his figures had been made for sovereigns. I told him I thought it illegal to use coins of the realm, but he said that he did not think so, as it was done in America. I then made inquiries about the prisoner, and arranged to meet him yesterday to try an experiment on a larger scale at my own factory in Tysoe-street, Clerkenwell, and in the meantime I communicated with the police at Scotland-yard. Yesterday, Count Kearney drove up in his brougham to my shop in Bond-street. I joined him, and on our way to Clerkenwell he said, "I think I shall get the Duke of Edinburgh to put some money into this." On arriving at my workshop, in which there is a large room with a furnace in the centre, there were present the Count, Pinter, an assistant, and myself. Two detectives were concealed from view. Pinter then proceeded to experimentalise with twenty sovereigns, which he himself produced. He soaked all of them in the acid, as before, for a short time; then put them into a crucible with flux and some of his black powder, and after some trouble, caused by the intense heat of the furnace, he succeeded in melting the coins into the mass I have here. (Mr. Streeter here exhibited the crucible.) From its weight I have little doubt the nugget is worth, if as pure as that resulting from the first experiment, at least 50*l.* I wish to have it analysed, and for that purpose I should like to have a remand.—Mr. Hannay: As far as we have gone at present, it would seem that the prisoner has really discovered the philosopher's stone.—Mr. Streeter: This is his philosopher's stone (holding up a small crucible containing a powder.—The Clerk: How did you become possessed of that?—Mr. Streeter: The detectives came quietly from their place of concealment whilst he was peering into the red-hot crucible, and, after looking over his shoulder for a short time, they gave him a tap, and on his turning towards them they took him into custody.—In the course of further evidence Mr. Streeter said that he had had the test made because he wished to see the trick exposed. A friend of his had been present in America at the Prisoner's last experiment, when he had swindled a man out of 18,000*l.* He was coming to London to recognise the prisoner.—The accused was remanded for a week, and Mr. Hannay ordered that an analysis should be made of the mass which was said to be the result of the melting of the twenty sovereigns with the mysterious powder.

A DEFINITE proposal has been set on foot at Bareilly to perpetuate the memory of General Azim-ud-din Khan Bahadur. A preliminary meeting was held at Sheikh Aziz-ud-din The latest information from Rampur reports that the heirs of the General have been granted by his Highness the Nawab, in consultation with the Council of Regency, Rs. 1,200 per mensem for life.

AT the Calcutta High Court, on Tuesday, 26th May, an application was made on behalf of the Rajah of Pachite, for a rule calling upon the Deputy Magistrate of Purulia to show cause why an order passed by him acquitting Anoda Roy, his ammookhtear, and seven others, of cheating and forgery, should not be set aside. Mr. Mathewson, prospecting for gold, obtained a concession from the Rajah of Pachite, who was to get from the company Rs. 10,000 and a sixteenth share in the profits of the company, which also agreed to advance to the Rajah three lakhs at 5 per cent. Taking counsel with his advisers the Rajah accepted this offer, and his ammookhtear brought a deed purporting to be signed by the Rajah, which was duly registered. This deed differed materially from the draft, and the accused forced Mr. Mathewson to pay them one lakh salami before they would register the deed, the Rajah receiving only Rs. 10,000. The Rajah subsequently discovered how he had been swindled, and brought the case before the Deputy Magistrate, but the accused was acquitted. Against this decision the Rajah now appeals.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to Mrs. Winslow's and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to the taste. It produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from the pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button. It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery and diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine dealers everywhere at 1s. 0½d. per Bottle. Wholesale by the Anglo-American Drug Company, Limited, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

THE ROYAL ACADEMY EXHIBITION.

The visitor to the Academy will naturally turn in the first instance to the work of Sir Frederick Leighton, Bart., president of the Academy. At this time he sends four works, which serve to show the wide range of his art—namely, two imaginative pictures, a portrait, and a sculptured group in white marble. Of the two ideal subjects in oil, the first in the order of the catalogue, and, as we think, also in its intellectual strength, is that of "Perseus and Andromeda." We have had many artistic versions of the legend of the maiden who was chained to a rock, and is about to become the prey of a monster of the sea when her deliverer comes to the rescue. Most of these representations have been infused quite as much with the spirit of realism as of poetry. The new version of the President of the Academy is in the highest degree poetical. Andromeda, partially draped, stands on a rocky islet in a narrow sea gorge confined between high cliffs. The dragon, with raised foot and outstretched wing, is crushing her downward, the figure already yielding to the pressure. Overhead, Perseus appears riding the air on a white charger with golden wings, and an arrow sped from his bow is seen in the neck of the monster, which, turning its lurid eyes upward, emits breath of flame, as if in defiance of its celestial assailant. The unity of the subject is partly disturbed by the fact that the rock-bound maiden and the dragon in themselves make a sufficiently dramatic picture, on which is superimposed what seems to be the apotheosis of Perseus, in shining splendour. Sir F. Leighton's other classical subject is "The Return of Persephone," somewhat conventionally treated, yet distinguished by great beauty and buoyance of form, and by exceptional colour value in the draperies of salmon and blue and faint yellow. The contemplation of Sir J. E. Millais's "Lingering Autumn" leads one to ask whether it would not be well that the artist should for a time at least allow commissions for portraits to go elsewhere, and return to his early love. In the same gallery is Millais's portrait of Mrs. Chamberlain at afternoon tea, a sweet and gracious presentment of youthful comeliness that is English rather than American, and which will doubtless, for various reasons, have many Belgravian admirers. Near it is "Grace," a young girl on whom the artist has expended more painstaking than is justified by the result. These two examples of Millais in portraiture, so near at hand, we refer to as showing how much they fall short of the art value of his "Lingering Autumn." Where he has got his subject we do not know. The rich autumnal tints are those of Scotland beyond Perth; the level stretch of marshland is that of England. The foreground consists of a series of lakelets, which seize and retain the beauty of the sky, and are fringed with grass and moss, while in the finely-graduated distance the trees are clad in brown and russet. It is careful, not niggling work. The artist is not solicitous, as in some of his earlier landscapes, to define each loaf and twig, yet the handling is conscientious throughout. He introduces only one figure, that of a girl carrying a pail of water, her pose being so thoughtfully studied as to convey not merely the feeling of motion but of the weight she bears along with her.

Near "Lingering Autumn" is L. Alma-Tadema's finest subject of the year. It is an idyll of home, an earthly paradise he calls it, summed up in Swinburne's line, "All the heaven of heavens in one little child." Looking at this picture, one does not think of Tadema as a painter of marbles and apple blossom and blue seas and interesting langour. One has eyes alone for the dimpled morsel of humanity clad only in innocence that lies cooing on its back on soft cushions, and puts up its pink hands and rosy mouth to mother leaning over the sofa in the nearest approach to human bliss. The child is the embodiment of infantile grace; the mother, who has just quitted the bath, becomes almost the background, has donned a semi-transparent drapery of blue, through which the form is suggested. Alike in sentiment and technique, this picture is one of the best Tadema has given us. He has abjured archæology, and substituted for it healthy human interest. Let us turn from this to Luke Fildes's "The Doctor," a picture painted for the sake of contrast, because it presents another phase of life with almost painful impressiveness, and can hardly fail to be adjudged one of the most powerful subjects in the Academy. A child, wasted and pale, lies sleeping on an improvised bed spread over a couple of chairs. Night is falling, and the interior is lighted by a lamp which burns brightly on the table. Sitting in the full glow of the lamp, the doctor intently regards his little patient. In the shadowy background the mother, giving way to grief, cannot be comforted, although her husband, standing over her with strained, tearless face, rests his hand on her shoulder as if bidding her still to cherish hope. The scene is depicted with such strength that one almost feels the silence of the sick-room. The contentedness of the lamp and the grey twilight stealing through the curtained window-are managed with consummate skill. The interfusion is exceedingly dexterous. Frank Dicksee, in "The Crisis," has a similar subject, in which, however, he appeals to us more as an artist than a searcher of hearts. A woman lies in bed in serious illness, her weary head tired down on the pillow, thin, white hands outside the coverlet. By her side the husband sits watching anxiously whether sleep is to deepen or to issue in new strength. After "The Doctor" this does not impress us so strongly, and we note the artistic qualities of the picture, its admirable lighting and the soft textures of the counterpane.

Several other notable pictures of the year may be glanced at briefly. J. W. Waterhouse, with a canvas of rich and strong colouration, tells with point and suggestiveness the Homeric story of "Ulysses and the Sirens." There is much pictorial attractiveness in Frank Dicksee's "Mountain of the Winds," although we prefer his lighter and more mundane subjects. "Val, C. Prince of Wales Emperor-to-be-of-Nowhere, Choosing His Wife," brings together quite a gallery of female loveliness, resplendently jewelled and costumed, and W. B. Leader lifts "The Manchester Ship Canal" into the region of high art. The making of railways and the unskilled energy of the navy have once and again been seized on by artists to show how commonplace detail may be translated into beauty, and in the present instance Mr. Leader has been conspicuously successful. Hubert Herkomer, also following the course of contemporary events, sends a large upright "On Strike," a navy at his cottage door, with set face and a dangerous light in his eye, while wife and child, standing behind, accentuate the misery of the situation. Whatever the facts of the case may be, the man is on strike, ripe for any mischief. Orchardson is represented by three portraits, one of Mr. Walter Gilbey being extremely good in its repose and fine colour. His only work in genre, "An Enigma," is slighter than usual. Solomon I. Solomon's "Judgement of Paris," entirely frank in method, is one of the features of the year. Interesting examples of their work are also forwarded by Leslie, Dalou, Poynter, Herkomer, Calderon, Hunter, Peter, Graham, and David Murray. The Scotch contingent includes, among others, G. O. Reid, who shows his "Voltaire at the Cafe de Procope," exhibited last year at the Royal Scottish Academy; J. Donovan Adam, with two pictures; John Lavery, with a portrait of Lennox Browne, F.R.C.S.; F. S. Calvert, J. Carlow, R. C. Crawford, J. C. Noble, R. B. Nisbet, R. M. G. Coventry, J. G. Laing, C. M. Hardie, Wm. Grimmond, Harrington Mann (with his large Institute pictures and another), Wellwood Rattray, Tom Hunt, A. B. Doohurty, and A. Kay.

Among the guests at the Royal Academy banquet, on May 2, presided over by Sir F. Leighton, was the Prince of Wales, who said he had made a speech on the occasion for twenty-eight years with but few exceptions. In the course of a speech the Chancellor of the Exchequer said that notwithstanding the placid appearance of the ordinary citizen, the artists of the day had nothing to complain of. If they seek spiritual models to sit for their most ideal compositions, still in this land valour and virtue, self-sacrifice and self-abnegation, live; and though the age may be commonplace, prosaic, humdrum, and colourless, it still offers to artists deeds of valour—women who are deserving of all the compliments that could be paid them, and heroic deeds which should be celebrated by artists on which should take their part in the history of the people. On this occasion the usual toast of "Science and letters" was displaced by that of "Music and the Drama," for which Sir A. Sullivan and Mr. Irving responded. In proposing the toast of the Academy, Lord justice Bowen noticed that the Chancellor of the Exchequer had asked whether, although painters could paint, the wrongs of women, they had been bold enough to delineate women's rights. The reply to this was the President's own picture, which appealed to him as a lawyer:—"It represents Persephone, Queen of Heaven, returning from her husband's to her mother's embraces, released from her unwelcome honeymoon by the special order of the Appeal Court. I am informed on authority that my sight is too indistinct to admit of my verifying the statement—that in the background, although at an extreme distance, may be seen my learned friends, the Lord Chancellor and Master of the Rolls, looking with pleasure at the liberated captive."

A CIRCULAR has been issued by the local Government which, says a Rangoon paper, says that the Chief Commissioner is constantly receiving complaints from India and elsewhere regarding gazetted officers who have failed to pay moneys alleged to be due by them and ignore all applications for the discharge of their debts. The Government, the circular adds, does not tolerate indebtedness and insolvency on the part of clerks and other subordinates, and the Chief Commissioner will deal severely with any gazetted officer who brings the Government service into disrepute by refusing or neglecting to pay his just debts.

NOT only has the Punjab been blessed with a bumper wheat crop this spring, writes a local paper, but it has also had a splendid crop of rapeseed. Mr. Robertson says, in a note on the crop, that the later rains were even more favourable to this crop than to wheat, and that the outturn has increased enormously. In Shahpur the acreage under this crop rose in the year from 2,400 to 27,100, or by 1,029 per cent. In several districts the increase was over 200 per cent., and in Umballa it was 492 per cent. In all there were 298,000 acres under oil seeds, or 85 per cent. more than in the previous year. The total out-turn is estimated at 81,738 tons, or not far short of double that of last year, and the Director of Land Records and Agriculture predicts a large export, as the crop is heavy, prices are ruling high in Europe, and exchange is low.

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. The "Fragrant Floriline," being composed part of honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers throughout the world. Sold wholesale by the Anglo-American Drug Company, Limited, of Farringdon-road, London.

THE HANSARD UNION.

An extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders of the Hansard Publishing Union (Limited) was held at the Freemasons' Tavern, Great Queen-street, recently. The directors, as they entered, were hissed. Sir Henry Isaacs, chairman, said that when he last had the honour to preside over them—(cries of "Worse luck," and disorder) he little thought, seeing that he was not the permanent chairman of the Company, that he should be called upon to preside so soon over them again. On the last occasion their surroundings were brightened by what they believed to be the sunshine of permanent prosperity (hisses, laughter, and a Voice: "Bunkum," and disorder). Having reviewed the recent history of the company's affairs, as narrated in the report the shareholders had received, he said that under the circumstances their proposal to the shareholders would be to at once appoint a Committee of Investigation. That committee, whilst making the most rigid inquiry into the history of the company, might, at the same time, with the facts and figures and the trading accounts before them, suggest a mode of reconstruction. The directors had already placed their resignations in the hands of the shareholders (cheers, and a voice, "Only pleased to do it, I should think"): but, nevertheless, they were prepared to act loyally by assist if they could (cries of "No, no") in carrying out a scheme of reconstruction (cries of "No, no.") It could not be denied that there were many valuable and lucrative businesses belonging to the company (laughter), businesses which were making, as they were told, large profits only a short time ago (a voice, "By whom were you told?"), and they could not conceive that there was anything so malevolent in the presence of a receiver that those same businesses, if they received

IT IS THE BEST PREVENTIVE AND CURE FOR Biliousness. Sick Headache.
Mental Depression. Want of Appetite.
Skin Eruptions. Pimples on the Face.

SPARKLING AND REFRESHING DRAUGHT.—Notwithstanding its medicinal value, the "FRUIT SALT" must be looked upon as essential as breathing fresh air, or as a simple and safe beverage under ALL CIRCUMSTANCES, and may be taken as a sparkling and refreshing draught in the same way as Lemonade, Soda Water, Potass Water, &c., only it is much cheaper and BETTER, IN EVERY SENSE OF THE TERM, TO AN UNLIMITED EXTENT.
HEADACHE AND DISORDERED STOMACH.—After suffering two and a half years from acute headache and disordered stomach, and after trying everything, and spending much money without any benefit, I was recommended ENO'S "FRUIT SALT," and before I had finished one bottle I found it doing me a great deal of good, and now I am restored to my usual health; and others I know that have tried it have not enjoyed such good health for years.—YOURS most truly, ROBERT HUMPHREYS, Post Office, Barrasford, England.
SAVED ME MUCH MISERY FROM FEVERS.—Two years' trial of your excellent "FRUIT SALT" has saved me much misery from colonial fevers, indigestion, and impaired appetite, to which I have been subject during eleven years' residence in the tropics. It is invaluable to travellers as a preventive of sea-sickness and a relief from other ailments. I would as soon think of going a voyage without my tooth-brush as my bottle of ENO'S "FRUIT SALT."—Yours, &c., W. J. B., British Guiana, Dec. 5, 1878.
HOT COUNTRIES.—ACIDITY OF STOMACH.—"I have used ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT,' and know it not alone to be excellent, but really invaluable. Especially in the hot countries of the East, where Acidity of the Stomach, Biliousness, and Fevers are so common."—J. M. PEEBLES, M.D., Author of Around the World, Travels in Polynesia, China, India, Arabia, Egypt, &c., &c.
IN CENTRE OF AFRICA WITHOUT ANY MEDICAL MAN.—"Natives came with all manner of diseases. One day we had a man that was said to be mad. Whether mad or not, he was far from well, and I gave him a large dose of ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT.' The poor fellow came back next morning to tell us that he was better. His breath was no longer offensive, and he looked cheerful. We were sorry when our supply of 'FRUIT SALT' was done; it was a favourite, both with natives and Europeans, and is much used along the malarious coasts."—Africana, by Rev. DUFF MACDONALD, M.A., B.D., Vol. II., p. 307.

PRESERVING AND RESTORING HEALTH.—ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" acts as simply, yet just as powerfully, on the animal system as sunshine does on the vegetable world. It has a natural action on the organs of digestion, absorption, circulation, respiration, secretion, and excretion, and removes all impurities, thus preserving and restoring health.
TO PARENTS.—This preparation is invaluable in the nursery as a gentle laxative; it is pleasant to the taste, and much superior to senna or other nauseous drugs; it corrects the ill effects of over-eating or exhaustion, it is extremely beneficial in any feverishness or heat of the skin. The bowels ought to be kept free by the "FRUIT SALT" for a month or six weeks after eruptive diseases, as Measles, Scarlet Fever, Chicken-pox, Small-pox, and all Fevers or Infectious Diseases, &c.; for its use frees the system of the "dregs."
"THOUSANDS OF MILES IN INDIA."—ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" I have found of the utmost value in the hot and dry seasons, also in the monsoons. I have travelled thousands of miles in India, and in all the various changes of climate I have always found ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" the most refreshing beverage, especially after long heavy marches and other fatiguing duties to which the British soldier of late has been exposed. My dear wife, during her travail, found it to be the most useful thing that could be obtained. Yours, &c., S Warder, Central Military Prison, Poonah. Jan. 30, 1884.
STIMULANTS and insufficient amount of exercise frequently derange the liver. ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" is peculiarly adapted for any constitutional weakness of the liver. A world of woe is avoided by those who keep and use ENO'S "FRUIT SALT."—"All our customers for ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT' would not be without it upon any consideration, they having received so much benefit from it."—WOOD BROTHERS, Chemists, Jersey, 1878."
SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHER SALINES.—"Dear Sir,—Having been in the habit of taking your 'FRUIT SALT' for many years, I think it only right to tell you that I consider it a most invaluable medicine, and far superior to all other saline mixtures. I am never without a bottle of it in the house, as I find it possesses three most desirable qualities, namely, it is pleasant to the taste, promptly efficacious, and leaves no unpleasant after-effects.—A DEVONSHIRE LADY.—Jan. 25, 1869."
CAUTION.—Examine each bottle and see that the Capsule is marked ENO'S "FRUIT SALT." Without it you have been imposed on by a WORTHLESS IMITATION. Sold by all Chemists.
PREPARED ONLY AT ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" WORKS, POMEROY STREET, NEW CROSS ROAD, LONDON, BY J. C. ENO'S PATENT.

Trade Mark.
Take a little trouble to try Old Bushmills. It will be a more serious trouble afterwards to be noted for keeping the finest Whiskey round. To ensure purity it is advisable to get that bottled by the Company, the labels, capsules, and corks bearing their name. A dozen case contains two gallons.
OLD POT STILLS ONLY.
Edmund Yates,
"His Recollections & Experiences," Vol. I., page 251, says:—
I COULD not afford good wine, and would not give bad; but there was some Irish Whiskey which I procured through Mayne Reid ("BUSHMILLS" was its name), which was highly esteemed.
Writing in the World of Dec. 22, 1886, he says:—
MENTION made, in certain Reminiscences of mine, of a pleasant and wholesome alcoholic stimulant, called "Bushmills Whiskey," has led the proprietors of the famous Distillery to assure me that their alcohol is still extant in its pristine excellence, and, to confirm the assurance, send me a specimen of their produce. "All taps," we are assured by Mr. Stiggins, "is wanity;" but I am glad to find that a favourite "wanity" of my youth is as mellow and as innocuous as when first introduced to my notice by my old friend, Captain Mayne Reid.
600 Opinions. 600
W. Sinclair Thompson, M.D., F.R.C.S., writes from London—"I have appreciated your old Whiskey very much, and recommend it to my patients."
"Land and Water" says—"Of all spirits, Whiskey is the most wholesome, and one of the finest 'brands' of that spirit I have ever tasted is Old Bushmills."
"The County Gentleman" says—"Connoisseurs giving Old Bushmills a trial cannot fail to appreciate its mellowness and flavour."
"Licensed Victuallers' Gazette" says—"We have sampled specimens of Old Bushmills Whiskey, and are quite of our old friend Captain Mayne Reid's opinion, that it has no superior."
"The Court Circular" says—"Old Bushmills can be specially recommended for its exceptionally pleasant flavour."
PARIS EXHIBITION. OLD BUSHMILLS BEAT ALL. JUDGES AWARDED IT THE ONLY GOLD MEDAL FOR WHISKEY.
The Bushmills Company will be glad to hear from firms who keep their Whiskey, or who wish to keep it, so that their names may be added to this Advertisement if desired.

Bi-Digestive WINE
with Pepsine & Diastase
for
Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Vomiting, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Consumption, Gastralgia, Loss of Appetite, Constipation.
"This preparation of wine is founded upon sound chemical and physiological principles. While pepsine is the natural solvent or digestive for nitrogenous aliments, it has little or no effect upon the feculent constituents which enter largely into the composition of the food of man; and there is no doubt that some of the disorders of digestion arise from thereof assimilation of the starchy elements. Now the proper digestive for these is diastase; and in the bi-digestive wine, of M. Chassaing, those two most important principles, pepsine and diastase, are combined in suitable proportions." — See THE LANCET, July 27 th, 1872.

LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL
THE PUREST. THE MOST PALATABLE. THE MOST DIGESTIBLE. THE MOST EFFICACIOUS.
Incontestably proved by Thirty Years' Medical Experience to be
The only Cod Liver Oil which produces the full curative effects in CONSUMPTION AND DISEASES OF THE CHEST, THROAT AFFECTIONS, GENERAL DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE SKIN, WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN, RICKETS, AND ALL SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

SIR G. DUNCAN GIBB, Bart., M.D.,
Physician to the Westminster Hospital.
"The value of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL as a therapeutic agent in a number of diseases, chiefly of an exhaustive character, has been admitted by the world of medicine; but, in addition, I have found it a remedy of great power in the treatment of many Affections of the Throat and Larynx, especially in Consumption of the latter, where it will sustain life when everything else fails."

DR. SINCLAIR COGHILL,
Physician to the Royal National Hospital for Consumption, Ventnor.
"I have convinced myself that in Tubercular and the various forms of Strumous Disease, DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL possesses greater therapeutic efficacy than any other Cod Liver Oil with which I am acquainted. It was especially noted, in a large number of cases in which the patients protested they had never been able to retain or digest other Cod Liver Oil, that DR. DE JONGH'S OIL was not only tolerated, but taken readily, and with marked benefit."

JOSEPH J. POPE, Esq., M.R.C.S.,
Late Staff Surgeon, Army, Professor of Hygiene, Birkbeck Institution, London.
"I found during my Indian experience that the worth and character of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL remained unchanged by tropical heat or foreign climate, and it was, from its uniformity of character, particularly adapted for long-continued administration. The value of "hydro-carbons" in all debilitated states of the system is now becoming thoroughly recognized; and it is, without doubt, from the animal oils and fats, rather than from their vegetable substitutes, that we may hope to derive the surest benefit. The Oil of DR. DE JONGH places in everyone's reach a reliable and valuable remedy, one that cannot be too widely recognized."

DR. R. C. CROFT,
Author of "Handbook for the Nursery."
"DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is almost a specific in many of the Diseases peculiar to Infancy and Childhood, and I have seen marked benefit produced by its use. Patients prefer it to the Pale Oils, and are able to retain it more comfortably."

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is supplied ONLY in IMPERIAL MEASURE, in Sealed Quarts, sealed with SETTLE'S Patent Capsule impressed on the top with DR. DE JONGH'S Stamp, and on the side with his Signature, and the Signature of ANSAR, HARFORD & Co.; and bearing under the wrapper a Label with the same Stamp and Signatures.
